WAVE
Flowing elegance.

wave combines elegance and functionality for sophisticated conference rooms. The striking wave shape of the table legs creates a unique design, while the robust steel construction ensures maximum stability even with large dimensions.

The elegant, wave-shaped frame cover made in wood or metal is attached to the substructure without any tools. It can be stained or powder-coated in a wide range of colours to suit your individual requirements. The pilaster strip - the side cover of the table leg - also offers design flexibility in terms of material and colour. The integrated cable guide runs discreetly inside the table leg and remains easily accessible at all times thanks to the tool-free mounting.

A table that sets big ideas in motion.

This table transforms the management office into a place of exclusivity and efficiency. Its elegant design provides ample space for strategic thinking and decisive discussions. Modern yet inviting, it enhances any sophisticated office ambience and makes a clear statement for a professional and stylish work environment.

When design and pleasure come together in harmony.

A new level of exclusivity for dining and hospitality. The elegantly curved, magnetically attached wood panelling combines style with flexibility. High-quality materials and bespoke options make it the ideal choice for stylish hospitality.
